Property Maintenance Status Now Available Online

Since the beginning of this year Delhi Township's Development Services department has investigated more than 350 property maintenance related issues such as parking on lawns or other unpaved surfaces, uncut grass, accumulated debris or other alleged nuisance or zoning violations throughout the Township. Residents who were interested in knowing the status of any investigations previously had to call the Township offices to obtain such information. Beginning today the Township will make this information available online.

Information showing the property address, zoning or nuisance issue, status of the investigation, the date on which the next action is scheduled to take place or the date on which the investigation was closed is now available online through the Township website at www.delhi.oh.us.

Initially the information that will be available will be for the most recent three month period. Updates will be made to the website on a weekly basis so that eventually all investigations since the beginning of the year will be displayed.

For additional information, please contact Gerard Schroeder, Township Administrator, at 513-922-3111.
